

QUESTIONS	SOURCE
How do I know my focus students' strengths and their learning needs?	Refer to the Progress and Achievement Inquiry Tool. The self review tools available via this link are helpful to get you started: http://literacyonline.tki.org.nz/Literacy-Online/Impact/Progress-and-achievement/Self-review-tool-for-schools-focus-on-students-achieving-below-curriculum-expectations-in-Literacy-years-1-8
How can I give my focus students more and better opportunities to improve their writing across the curriculum?	NZC Online - NZC Updates http://nzcurriculum.tki.org.nz/ Issue 25 in particular provides information about how you can maximise opportunities that will help students increase their writing skills in curriculum learning areas. http://nzcurriculum.tki.org.nz/Curriculum-resources/NZC-Updates/Issue-25-September-2012 Oral language skills and knowledge provide the foundations for writing and reading, and for curriculum key competencies. For information about how to ensure that oral language, reading and writing are linked components of your literacy teaching and learning programme, go to: Learning through Talk: Oral Language in Years 1 to 3. Copies of this resource should be in your school. Additional copies are available by email at: orders@thechair.minedu.govt.nz or online at www.thechair.minedu.govt.nz The item number to quote is 33378. If you wish to also order Learning Through Talk: Oral Language in Years 4 to 8 the item number is 33379. The following link, with information about writing approaches, draws from the resource Effective Literacy Practice in Years 1-4. http://literacyonline.tki.org.nz/Literacy-Online/Teacher-needs/Pedagogy/Writing/Approaches-to-teaching-writing
Where do I go to get more information about teaching and learning writing for my focus students?	The Writing Hub http://literacyonline.tki.org.nz/Literacy-Online/Teacher-needs/Writing-hub The six sections or 'chapters' on the Writing Hub cover: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Teaching writing in Years 1 to 8 • Teacher support materials • Making writing judgements • Approaches to teaching writing • Supporting the writing process • Literacy planner The document Supporting the teaching of writing in New Zealand schools provides the evidence base for the resource material on the Writing Hub http://literacyonline.tki.org.nz/Literacy-Online/Teacher-needs/Writing-hub Go here for support with phonological awareness, spelling, vocabulary, and grammar: Sounds and Words at http://soundsandwords.tki.org.nz/

QUESTIONS	SOURCE
How do I help my focus students?	Teaching Writing in Years 1-3 Building a Strong Foundation http://literacyonline.tki.org.nz/Literacy-Online/Teacher-needs/Writing-hub/Teaching-writing-in-years-1-8 This resource provides a wealth of information about how you can provide many opportunities for your students to learn and practise their writing skills, starting from their first day at school. It includes information which you will find very useful, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What to expect after six months at school • Suitable approaches for teaching writing • The importance of building on oral language, and connecting reading and writing • Providing many opportunities for writing throughout the day • Teaching strategically in the first, second and third year 1, 2 and 3 of school • How to teach and reinforce writing skills and knowledge • Teacher monitoring and reflection • Intensifying instruction to accelerate progress
And how do I help the students in my class who have a range of English proficiency?	Supporting English Language Learning in Primary Schools - Years 1 and 2 http://esolonline.tki.org.nz/ESOL-Online/Teacher-needs/Reviewed-resources/Supporting-English-Language-Learning-in-Primary-School-SELLIPS
How can I target my classroom teaching for these students with their diverse language skills and needs?	This resources gives suggestions for helping not only those students who are learning English as an additional language, but also those students who would benefit from explicit English language support. They give suggestions for developing students' academic, cross-curricular English language. The resources focus not only on writing but also speaking, listening and reading across the curriculum. They include links to the English Language Learning Progressions, a resource you will find invaluable for helping you support your English language learners. http://esolonline.tki.org.nz/ESOL-Online/Student-needs/English-Language-Learning-Progressions
Where can I get some specific ideas from, especially for different learning areas and different levels of the NZC?	Teacher Support Materials http://literacyonline.tki.org.nz/Literacy-Online/Teacher-needs/Writing-hub/Teacher-support-materials
How can I get started with planning writing in different learning areas?	Literacy Planner http://literacyonline.tki.org.nz/Literacy-Online/Teacher-needs/Writing-hub/Literacy-planner This is an online, interactive tool that will help you plan writing tasks that support learning across the curriculum.